

Contents	Acknowledgements	1
	Summary	2
	Project background	2
	Archaeological summary	15
	Interpretation and discussion	28
Artefactual evidence	Worked flint by Philippa Bradley	37
	Pottery by Paul Blinkhorn, Paul Booth and Duncan H. Brown	37
	Window glass by Cecily Cropper	46
	Window came by Cecily Cropper	54
	Vessel glass by Cecily Cropper	54
	Metal objects and worked bone by Leigh Allen	57
	Jet bead by Angela Boyle	61
	Clay tobacco pipes by Dr David A. Higgins	62
	Ceramic building material by Kate Atherton and Nick Mitchell	69
	Worked architectural stone by Dr Richard K. Morris	74
Ecofactual evidence	Animal bone by Bethan Charles and Claire Ingrem	76
	Human skeletal remains by Angela Boyle	82
	Charred plant remains by Ruth Pelling	82
	Mollusca by Mark Robinson	84
	Marine shell by Greg Campbell	85

The archive	86
Bibliography	87
Appendix 1: Table showing pottery occurrence per context	95

List of Figures

Figure 1	Site location	3
Figure 2	Detail from Loggan's map of 1675	7
Figure 3	Locations of evaluation, excavation and watching brief areas	12
Figure 4	Plan of the barrow ditches	16
Figure 5	Sections across barrow ditches	16
Figure 6	Plan of the tree-planting pits	18
Figure 7	Sections across tree-planting pits	18
Figure 8	Plan of the in situ masonry and robber trenches of Phases 3 and 4	21
Figure 9	Relationship between tree-planting pit, buttress and buttress robbing	22
Figure 10	Detail of buttress and associated wall	23
Figure 11	Sections across robber trenches	24
Figure 12	Property boundaries to the rear of the Beaumont Street terrace and associated features	26
Figure 13	Known extent of the barrow cemetery in North Oxford	28
Figure 14	Interpretative plan to show excavated and mapped elements of the southern half of the palace/friary	31
Figure 15	The medieval and post-medieval pottery	40
Figure 16	The window glass	48, 51
Figure 17	The vessel glass	55
Figure 18	The small finds	58
Figure 19	The clay tobacco pipes	64
Figure 20	The ceramic building material	70
Figure 21	Stone mouldings	74

List of Plates

Front cover	Sparrow's view of the remains of Beaumont Palace 1774
Plate 1	Detail from Ralph Agas' map of 1578	6
Plate 2	Green's view of the remains of Beaumont Palace	8
Plate 3a and b	J B Malchair's views of the remains of Beaumont Palace 1783	8, 9
Plate 4a and b	J C Buckler's views of the remains of Beaumont Palace 1820 and 1821	10, 11
Plate 5	View of northern barrow ditch	17
Plate 6	Section across northern barrow ditch	17
Plate 7	Section across tree-planting pit	19
Plate 8a and b	Aerial view of orchard pits and friary building	20
Plate 9	Detail of buttress	23
Plate 10	Section across north-south wall robber trench	24
Plate 11	Metal objects and worked bone	34
Plate 12	G Hollis' view of Beaumont Street being built in 1824, with the remains of Beaumont Palace on the right	35
Plate 13	The Beaumont Street terrace as it is today, with the new Sackler Library	36
Plate 14	The worked architectural stone	75

List of Tables

Pottery

Table 1	Pottery occurrence by number and weight of phased sherds (in g) and MNV, all fabrics	41
Table 2	Pottery occurrence by MNV per fabric per medieval ceramic phase, expressed as a percentage of the medieval assemblage per phase	41
Table 3	Pottery vessel types, expressed as a percentage of each ceramic phase assemblage by MNV	45
Table 4	Rim fragmentation, expressed as the mean percentage complete per major medieval ware type per phase	45
Table 5	Mean sherd weight (in g) per major medieval ware type per phase	46

Table 15	forms Appendix 1 and shows pottery occurrence by number and weight of sherds per context by fabric type	95
----------	---	----

Vessel glass

Table 6	Glassware from properties 34-37 Beaumont Street	56
---------	---	----

Clay tobacco pipe

Table 7	Clay tobacco pipe context summary	63
---------	-----------------------------------	----

Ceramic building materials

Table 8	Floor tiles, quantified by group, fabric and design	70
---------	---	----

Animal bone

Table 9	Larger mammal species representation according to phase and method of recovery	77
Table 10	Smaller mammal, fish and bird species representation according to phase and method of recovery	77
Table 11	Species and body part representation according to NISP and MNI for main larger domestic species	78
Table 12	Condition of hand collected larger mammal bone by phase	79

Charred plant remains

Table 13	The charred plant remains	83
----------	---------------------------	----

Mollusca

Table 14	The molluscs	85
----------	--------------	----